THE FIRST TERM ENGLISH TEST N1°

Read the text and do the activities below.

TEXT:

In the small African nation of Lumania, two neighbouring tribes had lived peacefully for generations. Yet, a serious disagreement over farming land turned into violent clashes last year. Villages were destroyed, and many families escaped to safer areas.

In response, community leaders and young volunteers came together to form a Peace Committee to help settle the conflict. After many meetings and discussions, they decided to end the fighting and share the land equally.

Thanks to international aid, schools were reopened and farmers received new tools and seeds to start again. The government later announced a Day of Unity so it reminds citizens of the importance of forgiveness and cooperation.

Today, the people of Lumania are slowly rebuilding their communities and learning to trust one another once more. The Peace Committee still works to prevent any new violence and to promote peaceful dialogue among all citizens.
