Volunteering

Volunteering is for those who believe they can make difference in the lives of others. Some volunteering organizations are doing a good work to put end to some serious problems that affect our society. It is an unpaid activity for people to assist the poor, the needy people or even charitable organizations.

Mary Sutherland is one of those extraordinary volunteers. She suffered from serious depression at the age of 17. After some years of a troubled adolescence, she decided to volunteer and devote her time, energy and money to give helping hands, hope and support to those who are deprived.

Three Year later, she started the SAFE project with three other volunteers. This project offers many services for the homeless; food, clothing, pieces of advice, spiritual help, love and support. Mary also organizes hot meals and shelters for the homeless. She is working with some young volunteers who are willing to raise money for the homeless.

After many years of volunteering, Mary said: '' this amazing and valuable experience helped me to be more confident. It also gave me a new goal: keep doing anything I can to fill our world with laugher and joy''

Volunteering can provide a healthy push to your self-confidence, self-esteem and satisfaction. You are doing good for your community; it gives you a sense of pride and identity.
