First Term Exam

Part one: Reading:

- Read the following passage carefully then do the activities.

Fashion is a particular style that is popular for a few months or years. We speak of fashion in cars, furniture as well as in music. But most commonly, fashion refers to a style of clothing which is worn at a given time but is expected to change. For example, women's fashion changed frequently during the 1800's. Often, fashion in several areas is linked, giving rise to a period style. The music, dance and clothing of the 1960's is an example of a period style.

Although fashion usually refers to dress, it does not mean the same thing as clothing. People used to wear clothes that reflected customs of their communities, and clothing styles changed extremely slowly .Fashion, however causes styles to change fast for a variety of historical, psychological, and sociological reasons. A clothing style may be produced as a fashion, but the style becomes a custom if it is handed down from generation to generation.
