Text

Malek Bennabi is a famous Algerian writer, thinker and philosopher. He was born on January 1st 1905 in Constantine. He belonged to a poor and a conservative family. He had three sisters and no brothers. When he was a child, his family was obliged to move to Tebessa because of his father's job. Bennabi continued his studies in Algiers and Paris until he graduated as an engineer in electricity. After his graduation in 1925, Bennabi tried many jobs in Constantine, Tebessa and elsewhere but he wasn't really happy so he didn't stay long at any of them. He decided to go back to France. In 1930, he got married with a French girl called Paulette. Later, he moved to Cairo, where he continued his intellectual production until the independence of Algeria. In 1963, he returned to his hometown and was appointed minister of High Education until he quit in 1967. After that, he devoted himself for his intellectual projects. He wrote many articles and published more than 25 books in his lifetime, among them ''The Conditions of Renaissance'' in 1948 and ''The Question of Culture'' in 1954. Malek Bennabi died on October 31st ,1973 in his house in Algiers. He is considred as one of the most remarkable intellectuals in modern Islamic History.
